President calls Boy Scouting useful, needed

By WALTER F. STRANGE
Press-Record Staff Writer

The program of the Boy Scouts of America is working and will work in any area, regardless of economic, social or ethnic makeup, where the people of the neighborhood sincerely want it for their children, according to Arch Monson Jr., national president of the Boy Scouts of America.

The 14th president of the BSA spoke at the 27th annual recognition dinner of the Cahokia Mound Council in the cafeteria of Granite City High School North, Saturday night.

Rex Davis, area newsman, interviewed Monson in a "theater-in-the-round" presentation.

"It is unfortunate that so few people want to get involved with anything anymore, but hopefully this situation is coming to an end. Volunteerism was truly a way of life during the early years of this country," Monson said.

"You take areas where crime is rising and the people of the neighborhood want it stopped, they get involved and start cooperating with police, and crime stops."

"We still have a lot of parents who are willing to let other people take care of their children without getting involved. Scouting is growing in the Midwest and smaller communities where the neighborhood people are interested in doing something positive for their children," Monson said.

When Davis asked about changes in the program over the years, Monson responded: "The fundamentals of citizenship training, physical fitness and being morally straight still are the aims of the program. We have not changed our objectives, but we are trying to keep our delivery systems up to date."

"With the new times we have had some problems with people. A suit was brought against the Boy Scouts because a little girl wanted to be a Cub Scout, but the Supreme Court of the state of Oregon ruled that the little girl had several equal opportunities in other programs."

"Today there are 40,000 environmental organizations that have sprung up. Scouting grew up protecting the environment for the past 70 years. We do have some new merit badges dealing with such things as computers and space exploration. They are here to stay, along with camping, canoeing and swimming."

"Our Exploring program is fairly new and catching on. It is co-educational and career oriented. This is the area where we need to expand."

Davis then asked about problems.

"Insurance is a major problem many councils and Scout units are having. Today, it seems like everyone wants to sue everyone for everything."

"We have other problems. One of Scouting's largest partner institutions in the past has been Parent Teachers Associations (PTA). PTA's are running into problems as schools have been changing their policies. After school is out at 3:30 p.m., they lock the doors and the PTA's in some areas no longer are able to sponsor a Scout unit or Cub Pack for lack of a place to meet."

"But as one problem crops up, new solutions come up."

"With the growth of very active Senior Citizen organizations in our nation, they are becoming active partners with the Scouting program. We have these groups all over the United States sponsoring Scout troops, Cub packs and Explorer units."

"Rex, I would like to close out here now saying that I am really thrilled to have been invited here tonight and meet so many fine volunteers. As you know none of us get a dime for working in Scouting, but we get United Steelworkers throughout the U.S. and Canada will ballot tomorrow on new international officers. Opposing tickets are headed by Lloyd McBride, 50, St. Louis district director, and Edward Sadlowski, 38, Chicago area district director.

Retiring President I. W. Abel today pledged that proper voting procedures will be followed.

He assailed Sadlowski, for predicting extensive "vote stealing," and called Sadlowski lacking in ability and dedication. He would do a miserable job if elected, Abel asserted.

McBride, considered the leading contender for the presidency of the 1.4-million Steelworkers union will cast his ballot at the polling place of his home local, Local Union 3643, at 10 a.m. Tuesday.

The polling place for Local 3643 is at the Laclede Steel Co. main gate parking lot on Cut Street, off Broadway, in Alton. It will be the only time McBride will be in this area during the election and tabulating of votes.

"It is expected to take a week to ten days following the election before the final results of the hotly-contested election are made official," Buddy Davis, District 34 campaign chairman for McBride, said today.

Davis will succeed McBride as District 34 director.

McBride coordinated union activities at Granite City Steel from 1946 to 1965, and Davis currently handles such duties.

Unusually active campaigns have been waged here and elsewhere by both tickets.

Campaign headquarters have been located at 1942 State St. for McBride and at 400 State St., Madison, for Sadlowski.

Running with McBride are Lynn Williams, Toronto, Ontario, for secretary; Frank McKee, Los Angeles, for treasurer; Joe Odorich, McKeesport, Pa., for vice president-administration; and Leon Lynch, Memphis, Tenn., for vice president-human affairs.

National campaign coordinator for McBride is George Becker, Pittsburgh, formerly of Granite City.

The Sadlowski ticket includes Ignacio Rodriguez, Los Angeles, for secretary; Andrew Kneec, Pittsburgh, for treasurer; Marvin Weinstein, Youngstown, Ohio, for vice president-administration; and

Suspect monoxide in worker's death

Terry L. File, 24, of 2806 Dale Ave., a pipefitter apprentice at Granite City Steel, was found without signs of life at 9:26 a.m. Sunday on the platform of one of three stoves adjacent to "B" blast furnace.

Mr. File was discovered lying on the platform, which surrounds the cylindrical structure, by a foreman at the steel company's Blast Furnace Division.

He was pronounced dead at the scene at 9:45 a.m. Sunday by Madison County Deputy Coroner Edward Werner.

The possibility that Mr. File was poisoned by inhaling carbon monoxide is suspected by pathologists, it was learned. Results of an autopsy conducted yesterday were not conclusive, however, and the cause of death will not be determined until after full toxicology work is completed, Werner said.

An inquest is pending. A spokesman for the local plant said Mr. File worked the 3 p.m. to 11 p.m. shift Saturday and was last seen at 10:30 p.m. Saturday by a relieving co-worker in a handymen's shed at the Blast Furnace facility.

Mr. File reportedly informed the co-worker he was going to the bathroom. The pipefitter coming on shift apparently was not assigned to the same area as Mr. File had been working, the plant spokesman said.

Mr. File had been employed at Granite City Steel for five years next month. He had started in the plant's pipefitter-

On and off the record Planners plan 4-day, 40-hour week

The Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan and Regional Planning Commission, in an effort to conserve natural gas, will follow a four-day, 40-hour workweek schedule for the remainder of February.

In addition, thermostats throughout the offices have been set at 65 degrees on workdays, and lower on weekends.

The four-day, 40-hour workweek schedule is planned for the period of today through March 4. However, this could be revised, depending on the natural gas situation and the severity of the weather, a spokesman said.

Weather masks crash victims' deaths 20 days

Funeral services were held at 10 a.m. today for two local men whose bodies were found in an auto, upside down in the Cahokia Drainage Canal at the edge of Route 200. They apparently were killed by the crash on Jan. 14.

William K. Worley, 26, of 181 Treecker Lane, Mitchell, and Danny Ponder Sr., 22, of 1904 Kirkpatrick Homes, were pronounced dead at the scene.

St. Clair County sheriff's deputies said they have been unable to determine when the accident occurred, but both men have been reported missing since Jan. 17.

Officers said the car in which the men died was found upside down in the water under a cover of most of the auto. Snow obscured the remainder of the car from being easily seen, so passing motorists did not notice the auto.

They believe the auto left the roadway, traveled about 123 feet before hitting a guard rail and then plunged down and into the drainage ditch.

An autopsy has been conducted and an inquest is to be held to determine if death was caused by drowning, traumatic injuries or other causes.

A missing persons report on Ponder was filed with the Granite City police Jan. 25, and a similar report on Worley was filed Jan. 17 with the Madison County Sheriff's Department.

Both said the two men had left home together Jan. 14 and were not seen since.

Mr. Worley had been employed two weeks with General Motors, working on an assembly line in St. Louis. He was born in Poplar Bluff, Mo.

Detecting smoke

By VIRGINIA KNAUER
If you haven't already heard or read about smoke detectors, you are almost certain to soon.

Today, there are 18 brands of detectors on the market for use in both new and old homes.

At the same time, sales are roughly 60 times what they were only four years ago—and could double or triple again by 1980.

But while smoke detectors are becoming a popular consumer item, fire officials caution that they can differ significantly in quality.

Therefore, before you buy one, there are several things about smoke detectors you should find out first.

Smoke detectors are sensing devices that alert at the first sign of smoke, thus alerting a family to the possibility of fire, sometimes within seconds of when the fire actually starts.

Because the device is designed to detect the heat of fire, recent studies indicate that it has the potential to prevent many deaths due to home fires. This is because smoke inhalation, rather than heat or flames, is estimated to cause between 50 and 75 per cent of all fire fatalities.

"According to the National Fire Prevention and Control Administration (NFPCA), there are two basic kinds of smoke detectors sold for home use.

Referred to as "Photoelectric" and "Ionization" detectors—depending upon the method used to detect smoke—either kind of device is suitable for warning of fire and each contains a small, leather-lunged horn intended to rouse the soundest sleeper.

Besides differences in sensitivity and convenience of operation, these detectors vary little in appearance or price.

But NFPCA reports that they can differ in quality, so consumers interested in purchasing a smoke detector should shop for their product carefully, taking these precautionary steps:

1. Make sure your unit is listed by the National Fire Protection Association (NFPA).

2. Read the instructions carefully.

3. Test the unit regularly.

4. Replace the unit when the manufacturer's instructions indicate.

5. Do not tamper with the unit.

6. Do not use the unit as a night light or for any other purpose.

7. Do not use the unit in a bathroom or other area where it might be exposed to moisture.

8. Do not use the unit in a kitchen or other area where it might be exposed to grease or other airborne particles.

9. Do not use the unit in a bedroom or other area where it might be exposed to carbon monoxide.

10. Do not use the unit in a room where it might be exposed to other airborne pollutants.

11. Do not use the unit in a room where it might be exposed to other airborne pollutants.

12. Do not use the unit in a room where it might be exposed to other airborne pollutants.

Van Horn president of GC Colonial Bank

The board of directors of the Colonial Bank of Granite City has elected Donald E. Van Horn as president of the bank effective Feb. 15.

Van Horn will succeed Donald R. Brown, who has resigned to return to his native Wisconsin.

In making the announcement, Paul H. Lichtenberger, chairman, said, "We are naturally very sorry to lose the services of Don Brown, who played a very important role in the organization of the bank and who guided its affairs in opening and staffing."

"We feel that we are indeed fortunate in having Don Van Horn to take over the management of the bank."

"He has a background of 14 years' experience in the banking business and prior to that spent eight years in the finance business."

"The board is confident that under his direction the bank will continue to grow and prosper."

"As of Feb. 2, deposits in the bank were in excess of $1,800,000 with total resources over $3,000,000."

Van Horn, 47, resides in Granite City with his family. His past positions have included service as president of the Bank of Cahokia and as executive vice-president of the American National Bank of Granite City.

His schooling has included Belleville Area College, the University of Illinois and the American Institute of Banking.

New equality regulations Feb. 17

The U.S. Labor Department's Office of Federal Contract Compliance Programs (OFCCP) has adopted some of its recently proposed regulations designed to strengthen enforcement of equal employment opportunity affirmative action requirements for federal contractors under Executive Order 11246, as amended.

Although the bulk of the proposal published in the Federal Register Sept. 17, 1976, is still under consideration for final adoption, the OFCCP is making final those revisions or amendments which evoked little or no public comment or which codify already existing policy.

It received about 1,100 comments and 2,500 pages of testimony concerning the proposals, and is considering all of these before publishing major revisions of the regulations.

Included in the regulations adopted are the following:

- All depositories of federal funds and financial institutions which are issuing and paying agents for U.S. Savings bonds and savings notes are subject to the written affirmative action program requirement.

—Any employer with contracts or subcontracts which in any 12-month period total more than $10,000 is covered by the executive order.

—Employers on or near an Indian reservation who publicly declare preferential hiring for American Indians living on or near that reservation may reflect such preference in their goals and timetables.

—Contractors hiring workers in the U.S. for either federal or nonfederal contracts are subject to the executive order regardless of the policies of the country where the work is performed or for whom the work will be performed.

—The OFCCP and federal compliance agencies enforcing the executive order may refer individual complaints to the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission (EEOC) for processing under Title VII of the 1964 Civil Rights Act since the federal contract compliance program concentrates on systemic or class-wide discrimination. Referral of complaints to the EEOC has been an OFCCP practice since 1961.

—Complaints may be filed by third parties, such as public interest groups, who believe that procedures and policies regarding administrative and judicial proceedings to enforce the executive order and to seek comprehensive remedies for discrimination, including back pay, are clarified. All administrative enforcement proceedings will be under the supervision of the solicitor of labor and OFCCP's hearing rules.

—Information to be contained in the 30-day notice to show cause why debarment proceedings should not be instituted is clarified.

—The OFCCP is clarified regarding procedures by which an employer can request a determination by the OFCCP that a hearing must be held prior to passing over that employer on the award of government contracts because of executive order violations.

Also, contractors with 50 or more employees and government contracts of $100,000 or more in any 12-month period total, or can reasonably be expected to total $50,000 or more are now subject to the written affirmative action program requirement.

The proposal for this requirement generated some controversy, but the OFCCP said it feels it will substantially increase the number of employers in the trucking industry who must establish written goals and timetables for hiring and promoting minorities and women.

The final rules were published in the Federal Register on Jan. 17, 1977, with a lengthy preamble explaining the rationale behind each amendment or revision and discussing public comment.

The regulations are effective Feb. 17, 1977, except for procedures for administrative proceedings which were effective on Jan. 18.

Executive Order 11246, as amended, prohibits federal contractors and subcontractors from job discrimination based on race, color, religion, sex or national origin. It also requires affirmative action to hire and promote minorities and women. The executive order is administered by the Office of Federal Contract Compliance Programs, which is part of the Labor Department's Employment Standards Administration.

Midwest Stone Industries has opened its new showroom and plant in Granite City at 2057 Edison Ave.

The firm manufactures concrete stones and objects used to decorate building exteriors and fireplaces and for flooring and patios.

James Hadley, co-owner of the firm, explained the business has been moved here from its former headquarters in Hanol, Ill., and extensive remodeling work has been done to the building, which formerly housed Edison Tool & Die Co.

Inventive coloration of concrete in the forms, acid etching and other manufacturing techniques combine to give the concrete pieces a wide range of appearances, from different types of stone to round pieces resembling slices of a large sequoia tree, the firm's latest offering, suitable for lawn stepping stones.

Placing acid in parts of the mold before the concrete is poured can produce the irregular coloring found in the rock being copied, and can even be used to simulate the rust streaks found in some stone which contains iron ore. "It's like fooling Mother Nature," the co-owner noted.

A wide variety of molds can be used to produce concrete "rocks" ranging from jagged lavastone to smooth, almost polished, brick and stone, Hadley explained.

The vast selection of types of rock, colors, etching, acid effects and type and color of mortar can be used to create a nearly endless variety of exterior surfaces and fireplaces, he added.

Entranceways, floors and many other areas can be enhanced with the concrete designs—yet with the rocks

LIKE THE REAL THING, simulated concrete rocks from the new Midwest Stone Industries here have the same shapes, colors and durability as real stones, with one-fifth the weight. James Hadley, a co-owner of the company, points out streaks resembling rusted iron ore found in many natural rocks. The streaks are reproduced with an acid process. weighing only about one-fifth as much as real rocks. The cost of the remodeling also is reduced by using the light concrete rocks rather than real rocks, it was noted.

Exteriors and fireplace frames are covered with a wire mesh, resembling heavy-duty chicken wire, which then is coated with a concrete based substance.

A wet adhesive and mortar then is applied and the concrete rocks adhere instantly to the surface, since both the rock and the concrete base are porous and both absorb the moisture of the adhesive, forming a strong bond, Hadley explained.

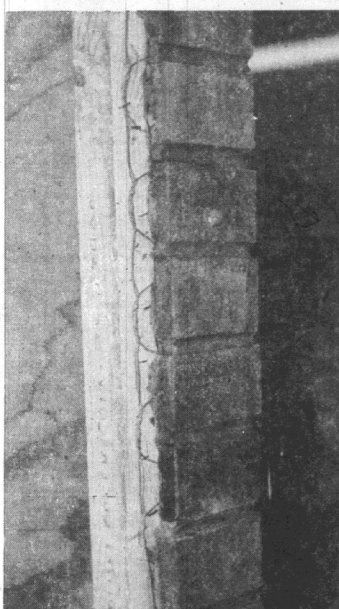

Brick veneers at one-fifth the weight and at a lower cost than with real bricks are available with the use of one-quarter inch thick slings from the exterior or real bricks.

In addition to producing and selling the stone products, employees also will install the improvements. Basic fireplaces, frames, chimneys, and furnishings are available, in addition to the choice of stone exteriors.

Several different types of finished fireplaces are in operation in the firm's showroom, as are fireplace supplies, man-made fireplace logs, gas burning units and accessories.

Several types of stone exterior and interior walls also are available for examination. Hadley noted the firm has decorated the exteriors of several buildings in this area.

Owners of Midwest Stone are Jim and John Hadley, Arnold Phillips and Jimmy Williams. Charlie Hayden is public relations director and the sales manager is Jan Langenstein. Midwest Stone is a division of Lavastone Industries, Dallas, Tex. Showroom hours are 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Mondays through Thursdays, 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. Fridays, and 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Saturdays.

LIGHTWEIGHT CONSTRUCTION of a brick wall or fireplace is achieved through the use of quarter-inch thick cuts from the exterior of real bricks, mounted on wire mesh and a special adhesive. This wall is on display at the new Midwest Stone Industries showroom in Granite City. (Press-Record Photo)

Reform state's budget—McPike

State Rep. Jim McPike, (D) Alton, has co-sponsored three bills which he says would increase legislators' ability to deal with an increasingly complex state budget.

"The economic condition of Illinois demands that the General Assembly reform and improve the way it functions in the budgetary process," McPike said. "Now is the time to make the changes, and these bills are the vehicle for that change."

The first proposal would make a number of changes in the budget timetable and would require the governor to submit his budget proposal within seven days of the convening of the Assembly. He would prepare his budget in no more than ten bills to be submitted at the time of his budget message, and legislative leaders would introduce budget bills within ten days after receiving them.

McPike said the proposed scheduling changes "would give the legislature the time needed to consider the budget recommendations deliberately and rationally."

Another proposal calls for creation of a Joint Legislative Finance Committee to make budget recommendations for the legislature.

The committee would collect information from executive agencies, prepare fiscal notes, perform program audits of the executive branch, review Bureau of the Budget allotment schedules, and assist standing appropriations committees of the House and Senate in reviewing the governor's budget each spring.

"Our present system is simply too fragmented to be effective in the face of the economic condition of the state," McPike said. The third proposal would require the Assembly to approve expenditure of all federal monies before the executive branch of state government could spend them.

Rep. McPike said that, currently, legislators have no idea "how much federal money executives have hidden in their budgets."

"Now is the time to reveal the real budgetary status of the state."

Lisa Jean Smith and James Wagner are wed

Miss Lisa Jean Smith, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Duane G. Smith, 3017 Myrtle Ave., and James Louis Wagner, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Wagner, 1648 Lindell Blvd., exchanged wedding vows in a candlelight ceremony, Jan. 22, at St. Elizabeth Catholic Church. Officiating at the double ring ceremony at 6 o'clock in the evening was the Rev. Larry Necessary, pastor of the First Christian Church and the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Lawrence Mattingly, host pastor.

For her wedding the former Miss Smith chose a full length ivory organza over satin gown designed with a high neckline and a V-neckline of Venice lace, which extended down the front of the skirt to create a redingote effect.

Venise lace trim edged the deep angel sleeves and the chapel train, accented with delicate lace motifs.

She wore a lace headpiece to secure her lace bordered veil of bridal illusion and the head ivory prayer book topped with a cluster of orchids.

Nuptial selections were provided by Peggy Smolch, organist and Tim Shrader, vocalist.

Maid of honor Miss Stephanie Southwick was attired in a formal length apricot polyester dress complemented with a dark brown velvet jacket.

Bridesmaids Miss Joni Jones and Mrs. Neva Benko, a sister of the bride, wore identical designed gowns in green and rust hues.

Each attendant held a nosegay of carnations, roses and baby's breath in matching shades and wore floral headpieces to match the attire.

The groom chose David Brammeier as his best man. James Schneider and Don Moore were groomsmen. Seating the guests were Stephen Benko, a brother-in-law of the bride and Mark Wagner, the groom's brother.

Guests were received by the newly married Mr. and Mrs. Wagner at a reception held at the American Legion Hall, Edwardsville.

Parents of the groom entertained the wedding party at a rehearsal dinner held in their home.

After a wedding trip to the Lodge of the Four Seasons the couple are now residing in Granite City.

A graduate of Granite City High School South, the bride is now employed at Walgreen's Drug Store. The groom is a graduate of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville and is employed at the Northland Shopping Center, and is an alumni of Delta Chi Fraternity.

Mrs. Myra Parrish heads Friends of Girl Scouting

Mrs. Myra Parrish was appointed the Quad-City chairman for the 1977 "Friends of Girl Scouting" membership drive of River Bluffs Girl Scout Council.

Since its founding in 1912, millions of girls have benefited from the simple but powerful lessons of living honestly and fairly, respecting others, giving service, becoming good citizens, and learning to do one's best. Girl Scouting makes a definite difference in each girl—her attitudes about herself, her family and friends, and her community, according to council officers.

River Bluffs services 14,000 girls in five and a half counties with a leadership team of over 2,100 adult volunteers. There are 1,540 girls and 302 adults in the Quad-Cities.

The cost to provide scouting services exceeds $15.16 per girl according to the most recent cost study. While much of this need is met by the United Way and approved product sales, the remainder is sought through "Friends of Girl Scouting."

Services to girls include maintaining area camps and camping equipment free of charge to girls, recruiting and training qualified leaders, recruiting girls from hard-to-reach areas, maintaining a financial assistance program, and offering a day and resident camping program. Each "Friend" enrollment helps to insure that these services are maintained and that Scouting stays alive in this area.

Mrs. Parrish hopes to raise $2,000 from the Quad-City area. Prospective givers will be contacted between March 18-27. If anyone is interested in contributing and is not solicited, please contact Mrs. Parrish at 931-4207, the council officers added.

Hairdressers attend show

Local hairdressers have returned from the National Beauty Salon Show held in Las Vegas, Nev., where they attended classes featuring the new trend release known as "the scoop" and were enrolled in competition classes, chemistry, progressive perming, creative hair coloring and art principles.

Those attending the sessions from this area were Judy Broehow, Dorothy Line, Mary Schiller and Betty Smith, members of the Illinois Hairdressers and Cosmetologists Association and Elite Hairdressers Affiliate 33.

They reported the 64,000 members of the National Hairdressers and Cosmetologists Association projected that women throughout the country will be getting the new style in their beauty salons this spring and summer.

The style, designed by the national organization to complement the new spring and summer fashions, is a semi-short softly textured hair shape that is easy to care for, the local group added.

"Two new coloring techniques for the forthcoming season are shadowing and glinting and permanent waving is a must for the lasting quality of the easy to care for style, the Granite City hairdressers announced.

Tax relief for disabled is proposed

State Representative Everett G. Steele (R-Glen Carbon) introduced legislation Thursday to provide homestead tax relief to disabled persons in much the same manner as it is now provided for property owners 65 years of age and over.

Rep. Steele's bill (HB 221) would broaden the $1,500 Homestead Tax Exemption Program to include "persons receiving disability benefits under the Social Security Act." To qualify, a disabled person must be an owner of record to the property or have a legal interest in it.

"Included in this new legislation," Steele said, "are disabled veterans, the blind, and those who are unable to work for a 12-month period due to a disability."

"This legislation corrects a serious oversight in our present Homestead Tax Relief Program," he said. The 56th District legislator noted that other forms of tax relief, such as the "circuit breaker," senior citizens' and disabled tax relief programs, include disabled persons as well as those over 65 years of age.

"I feel government must meet the needs of our state, and at the same time give some relief to those on fixed incomes who are unable to compete equally for jobs, for reasons of age or disability."

Twenty-five representatives have joined him as co-sponsors of the bill. Rep. Steele estimated that 1,500 persons in Madison and St. Clair Counties would benefit from the legislation.

Selected as family leader

Glenda I. Calvin, Granite City High School South, has been named 1977 Family Leader of Tomorrow. The student won the honor by scoring highest in the school in a written knowledge and attitude examination administered to high school seniors here and throughout the U.S. Dec. 7.

She will receive a certificate from General Mills, sponsor of the annual Search for Leadership in Family Living, and will now be considered for state and national honors.

From the ranks of all school winners in the state, a state leader will be selected through judging centered on test performance. The winner will receive a $1,500 college scholarship and the second-ranking student in the state will receive a $500 scholarship. "The Annals of America," a 20-volume reference work, will go to the state winner's school.

Representing every state and the District of Columbia, the 51 statewide family leaders of tomorrow will gather in colonial Williamsburg, Va., in April for an expense-paid educational tour there and in Washington, D.C.

During the tour, personal observations and interviews will be conducted to select the all-American family leader, who will receive a $5,000 college scholarship. Second, third and fourth-place national winners receive scholarships increased to $4,000, $3,000 and $2,000.

The test, personal observations and interviews are prepared and conducted by Science Research Associates of Chicago.

Emmanuel Baptist plans new programs

A variety of events for members of Emmanuel Baptist Church, 1800 Pontoon Road, to take place during February and March are being announced by the pastor, the Rev. Arthur J. Short.

The initial project will be a "Heart to Heart" program scheduled for Friday, Saturday and Sunday, Feb. 11-13, sponsored by the youth department of the church.

A group from Missouri Baptist College will speak and lead special singing at a banquet set for 6:30 p.m. Friday, followed by the selection of a king and queen. Tickets costing $2 per person are available at the church.

The following day a swim party will be held from 1 to 5 p.m. at the Holiday Inn, Collinsville, and at 6 p.m. the youth choir will meet with the music director from Missouri Baptist College. A 7 p.m. service will be held at the church, the minister added.

The Rev. Short said the Youth Choir of the church and a youth team from the college will be in charge of the morning worship on Sunday, and it is open to the public.

Other events will include the Sanctuary Choir, College and Career Choir and the Men's Quartet and Youth Choir participating in the area festival on March 7, at the Calvary Baptist Church in Alton.

The young musician's choir of the local church will participate in the state choir festival on March 11 and 12 in Decatur, Ill. Mrs. Linda Bridges is director of the group and Miss Paula Fisher serves as accompanist.

Directing the Illinois Baptist Children's Festival in Decatur will be Mrs. Jo Ann Butler, well known children's choir consultant and author of many books and music. Grades three through six will be involved in this festival from Baptist churches in the state.

The youth department of Emmanuel Baptist have started a puppet ministry as another project of interest to the congregation and community, the Rev. Short reports. He added the Home Mission Board is sending the youth on a Home Mission Tour this summer.

They will be divided into work teams, choir, puppets and work task forces and will go into an area where there are no Southern Baptist Churches and by presenting musical and puppet shows and canvassing neighborhoods, will endeavor to start a mission for Southern Baptists living in those communities.

The pastor will take his pony Sally and his collection of mini-bikes to recreation areas for added publicity in the project, it was noted. Possible locations being considered are Denver, Colo., Flint, Mich., and several others.

Polynesian night for Rotary Anns

"The Islands" was the appropriate theme used by the Granite City Rotary Anns for their February dinner meeting held last week at the Hu Ke Lau Restaurant.

Thirty-seven members and guests attended and each was presented a colorful lei to be worn throughout the evening. Entertainment was provided by the Royal Polynesians, a dance troupe from Samoa, who performed authentic songs and dances from their native land.

Honorees for the meeting were Mesdames Billie Schuler, Evelyn Ackerman, Marie Dotzauer, Gloria Garcia, Peggy Milton, Beverly Scroggins and Lois Winter.

Mrs. Linda Bristol, president, conducted the business session.

Steelers and Warriors show mat skill; North wins 25-21

An estimated 1,800 wrestling fans jammed into the Granite City Memorial Gymnasium Thursday night to see torrid and skilled competition. Coach Walt Whitaker's GCHS North matmen accomplished what only one other team (Bellevue West) had been able to do this season, defeating Coach William Schmitt's GCHS South grapplers 25-21.

The Steeler warriors leave North High with an 18-1 dual meet record heading into district competition.

The Warriors of South High enter the district meet with a 2-2 mark.

Each school won five weight class bouts and there were two deadlocks.

The Warriors opened with Rocky Lupardus (96 pounds) defeating North's Kevin Shewell 6-4 for a three-point South lead, but South trailed for the remainder of the close meet after Steeler Kris Whelan (105) handed Walt DeShon an 11-3 loss (four team points).

North's Keith Whelan (112) pinned Brian Basore in 2:11, and each team gained two points when Kirk Davis (119) and South's Randy Basore wrestled to a 4-4 draw.

Steeler Matt McCullough (126) blanketed Warrior Sam Perkins 12-0, and Warrior Dave Gaines (132) won 11-1 over Steve Haeffner to narrow North's lead to eight points at 17-9.

"I figured then that we'd have to win two middleweight bouts to pull out a victory," said Whitaker, aware that South might gain on North in higher weights.

The next two Steeler matmen emerged victorious to put North ahead 23-9. John Sands (138) nipped Warrior Dwan Page 7-6, and Ray Stuart (145) edged Warrior Darrell Hasty 3-1.

Warrior James Carmody (155) defeated Doug Rains 11-1 to put South within 10 team points of the Steelers. North's Steve Hartline (167) and South's Mike Forshee wrestled to a 4-4 draw as the team score rose to 25-18.

With two matches remaining, South needed a pin and a major decision (a victory by 12 or more points) to tie the meet. Two pins, or a pin and a superior decision (a victory by 12 or more points), would have allowed South to capture the meet.

Warrior Kevin Wilson (185) and Steeler Mark Widel met with impressive win-loss records.

Wilson had a 24-3 mark and Widel 25-1. Wilson had won 11 of his bouts on pins and Widel 13 of his matches on pins.

Wilson came close to pinning Widel twice, but the North matman refused to stay down and Wilson captured a 9-4 decision.

Wilson went ahead 5-0 in the first period on a takedown and a three-point near-fall, and early in the second period gained two more points with a near fall.

The Warrior wrestles twice escaped from holds by Widel, and the two entered the final period with Wilson well ahead.

The decision made the team score 25-18, ending South's hopes.

Warrior Heavyweight Mark Naglich and his foe, James Shewell, took to the mat next, with a win by Naglich necessary to keep his perfect season record intact. The Warrior entered the bout with a 27-0 mark.

Naglich preserved that status when he executed a near-fall in the third period for a come-from-behind, 5-4 victory.

"I thought the meet represented very conservative wrestling by both teams," said Schmitt.

"In my opinion, the final result was determined mostly by Keith Whelan posting the only pin of the meet and by Matt McCullough gaining a superior decision."

Wilson had a 24-3 mark and Widel 25-1. Wilson had won 11 of his bouts on pins and Widel 13 of his matches on pins.

Madison Spartans win county tourney

Coach Mike Lanier's eighth grade Spartans cagers of Madison Junior High swept undefeated last week through the Madison County Junior High School Conference basketball tournament, winning three games to claim the title, including a 59-48 win over Edwardsville Jr. High in the championship game Thursday night.

The win by Madison ended Edwardsville's 30-game winning streak, which began in the 1975-76 season.

"Edwardsville went undefeated last season as seventh graders and had a perfect 13-0 record this season until the tourney," noted Lanier.

Madison's balanced effort was led by Spartan Shannon Manson's 16 points.

The Spartans had opened the tournament, held at Grigsby Junior High School, with a 51-29 win over Roxana last Tuesday and then defeated Coolidge

Junior High 47-33 Wednesday. Grigsby's Gators won the third-place contest Thursday night, 46-36 over Coolidge. Joe Bowler sparked Grigsby to its victory with a 25-point performance, and David Edwards led Coolidge with 12 points.

Edwardsville had a 7-6 mark, Roxana 4-9, Coolidge 3-10 and Prather 0-14.

Madison Junior High School's seventh-grade basketball team completed the season with a 13-1 record, edging out defending conference leader Edwardsville (11-2) for first place in the standings.

North of Collinsville was 9-5, Edwardsville 7-6, Webster of Collinsville 6-7, Coolidge 4-9, Grigsby 3-11 and Prather 1-13.

Trojans dazzle Eldorado five

A 37-point scoring effort by Eagle Mike Duff, a 6-8 senior, proved insufficient Sunday afternoon as Coach Larry Graham's Madison High School Trojan cagers won 82-37 at Eldorado High before an estimated crowd of 4,500 persons.

Eldorado, a Class A state finalist for the past three seasons, trailed the Trojans 18-16, 36-31 and 60-41 at the quarters.

Trojan Randall Jones, a 6-5 senior, paced Madison's effort with 32 points, scoring eight points in each quarter. He hit 15 field goals in 19 attempts.

Madison, now with a 17-3 record made a total of 39 baskets in 60 attempts from the floor, and Eldorado 25 of 57.

At the foul line, the Eagles connected on seven free throws and Madison four. Madison had the most fouls, 10-9, but the fewest turnovers, 17-20.

The Trojans controlled the boards, 29-25, including nine rebound by Jones and seven each by Rodney Davis and Ron Williams.

The contest marked the third time this season that Jones scored 30 or more points in a game. Against Cairo he had 33, and against Lebanon he scored 30 points.

Adding to Jones' 32 points were Anthony King with 14, Williams 13, Davis 12, James Heard five and, two points each, Clayton Harris, Ron Morris and Kenny Boyd.

Weightlifting tourney

Weightlifters will be pushing together the week of Feb. 14-18 during the second annual intramural weightlifting tournament at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

The competition, sponsored by the Southern Illinois Intramural Sports Office at SIUE, will be held at the Bubble Gym.

Women's, men's and co-ed divisions will be represented in both team and individual categories.

The three types of lifts in the tournament are the bench press, sitting military, and leg press. Participants will compete for "SIUE champion weight-lifter" tee shirts.

As an added attraction to the tourney, several weightlifting demonstrations will be presented on both Tuesday and Wednesday evenings at 7:30 by a super-heavyweight 1980 Olympic contender, Tom Stock.

Bellevue's Stock will demonstrate workouts for both laymen and athletes on the universal gym and with dead-weights.

Inquiries can be directed to the Intramural Office at the Bubble Gym, or Quad-Cityans may call 682-3994.

Lancers defeat ailing Warriors

GCHS South cagers continue to be plagued with injuries and the after-effects of illness to key players, as was evident Saturday night against Bellevue East in the Granite City Memorial Gymnasium as the Warriors bowed 62-68 to the Lancers.

Warrior Tom Henrich sustained an ankle injury during the contest, his third such injury of the season. Terry Angle is still recuperating from an illness which sidelined him last December.

Coach Don Deterding praised East as "a good club with at least three players who are top on the courts."—Doug McCrary, Gary Haverman and Brian Leonard.

East led 20-13, 38-25 and 56-45 at the quarters and outscored South 26-14 in the final period to take the game out of reach.

McCrary, 6-3, scored 18 points in the first half. When the Warrior defense held him to only four points in the last two quarters, East began feeding the ball to 6-6 forward Haverman. Haverman provided 20 points for the Lancers, and a 6-8 center Leonard used long shots while totaling 17 points.

East had the edge in field goals, 20-25, and dominated the action at the foul line, 24-9.

South committed the most fouls, 20-14, and turnovers, 18-13. East controlled the backboards, 30-23.

"We just couldn't control their height," said Deterding. "If we got in front of their fence, they would shoot over the top of us. If we got in front of them, they would hit the inside."

John Stal headed South's scoring with 12 points. David Rhodes provided 11 points. Greg Feig and Roland Hurt nine each, Henrich and Angle six each, Jeff Parker four and Mike DeConno two, two points each.

Angle fouled out early in the fourth quarter and, seconds later, Henrich reinjured his ankle.

The loss leaves the Warriors with an 8-11 season record.

With tests Madison before bowling, 69-66

Madison High School prevailed in a contest from the free throw line in the Granite City Memorial Gymnasium Friday night, and gained a three-point win, 69-66, over the GCHS North Steeler cagers.

Coach Larry Graham's squad entered the contest with a 15-3 record and Coach William "Bill" Ohendorf's Stealers with a 6-10 mark.

Madison led 12-8 at the conclusion of the opening period and held a five-point lead at halftime, 20-15.

MHS held on for a 52-42 edge going into the final period and nearly lost the contest when the Stealers meshed 10 field goals in 16 attempts and tossed in four free throws in the final eight minutes of play.

"If North had played in the first half the way it did in the last two quarters," said Graham, "the Stealers would have won."

Players from both sides had technical fouls called against them and Trojan Randall Jones was ejected for four minutes left to play.

North's Stealers held the edge from the floor, 26-24, while at the foul line Madison made 21 tosses in 27 attempts and North 14 of 21.

North committed the most fouls, 18-16, while Madison made the most free throws, 10-16. The Trojans controlled the boards, 32-25, including Lloyd Williams' last-second rebound recovery on a missed Steeler shot.

Steeler Jerry Barnett, who fouled out of the game with 5:05 left in the final quarter, kept North in contention in the third period, scoring 10 points.

Trailing, 54-47, with 6:30 remaining in play in the game, North got three straight baskets from Barnett. The margin was 58-53 with 5:05 remaining.

Steeler Brad Gauen meshed a basket seconds later for a 58-55 score.

Oliver Montgomery, Pittsburgh, for vice president. Sadiowski said during the weekend, "I predict that I and members of my slate will win an overwhelming victory."

"We are going to win because of the support of people who really count in this union. Those who work as miners, crane operators, millwrights, laborers and apprentices are tired of business from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m."

"They are tired of weak contracts and a union leadership which has forgotten what it is like to get up early and punch a timeclock or feed a family on steelworkers' wages."

"We have those 270,000 of our members who are facing this cold winter without jobs, accounts of the past are not meaningful."

"They want new effort and commitment by our leaders to bring them back to work again, to bring them the kind of security through the collective bargaining process which has been promised so long and never realized by our leaders."

"We are confident of victory. This time because our members have watched for 15 years as dues have multiplied and services have dwindled in our union."

"Our current administration promised at that time to give the decision-making power over union policy back to the membership, but they have not done so. They have fought just about every new proposal to this union up to the membership since they took office."

McBride is alleging that Sadiowski has continually lied to the media and the Steelworker membership about the success of his money-raising drive.

Sweets can lead to dental decay

Feb. 6-12 is the 29th annual National Children's Dental Health Week. As part of the observance, the Madison District Dental Society has assembled six articles on dental health.

The first is in response to a question, "I have seen references on television to the child's cavity-prone years. What is this condition?"

Dr. Wallace Bryjak, chief of the Dental Section, St. Elizabeth Hospital, Granite City, replies:

By the age of 12 or 13, most of a child's permanent teeth are in position. Unfortunately, the teen years are when the highest rate of tooth decay occurs.

Statistics indicate that by age 14 the average person has 14 decayed, missing or filled teeth.

There are three major factors that play a role in tooth decay: plaque, sugar and tooth susceptibility. By paying more attention to these three items, teenagers could make a drastic change in the statistics.

Plaque is the sticky, almost invisible film of bacteria that forms on everyone's teeth. When sugar is consumed, bacteria in plaque use it and form acids that attack the tooth enamel, eventually causing decay.

Teenagers often neglect good oral hygiene habits. But brushing and flossing once a day to remove plaque can make a big difference.

At the same time, it is wise to cut down on the number of times sweets are consumed. It is especially important to avoid sweet snacks.

Parents can make sure that a child has a well-balanced diet at home that will aid in the building of strong teeth and bones.

But teenagers spend more time away from home and often choose the wrong foods, including sugary foods and beverages as between-meal snacks. Careful selection of their own foods can also help to reduce decay.

The final factor is susceptible teeth.

Scientists are trying to find ways of making teeth more resistant to decay. They have found, for example, that fluoride is a compound that helps to significantly reduce tooth decay.

Drinking adequate water that contains adequate fluoride from birth is known to curtail tooth decay by about 65 per cent. Another practical way of getting fluoride is to use an accepted fluoride toothpaste.

Plaque removal, avoiding

Assessor extends hours

The office of Granite City Township Assessor Von Dee Cruse will be open from 7 to 9 p.m. today and tomorrow to provide additional time for taxpayers who wish to inquire about their assessments for the 1976 tax year, on which tax bills will be based for collection this summer.

All taxpayers whose real estate property assessments were changed in the 1976 assessment list were notified of such changes in letters sent out by Cruse's office last week. Such notification is required by state law.

As a result, a number of taxpayers have appeared at the office to check their property valuations and to inquire as to what changes were made and why.

The valuations listed in the letters were those set by the

1976 freight breaks a record

A total of 64,541,862 tons of commercial and government freight moved through the Chain of Rocks lock and canal during 1976 — the largest volume of freight movements for any single year since the locks began operating in 1963.

A report released this week by the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, which operates the locks facility, showed that 1976 freight shipments were 6,352,630 tons more than 1975 freight totaling 58,189,032 tons.

Traffic moving through the locks on the Granite City riverfront totaled 80,848 vessels during the year, an increase of 6,841 vessels over the total of 73,748 moving through the locks in 1975, the report showed.

The 80,848 vessels were moved through the locks in a total of 12,577 lockages, which were 4,051 more than the 8,526 lockages in 1975.

Freight shipments have been increasing constantly in recent years as movements of petroleum products, grain, coal, sulphur, iron and steel products and chemicals grew in volume on the waterway.

The Army Corps report showed that in December, the last month of the year for which reports were completed last week, a total of 4,349,093 tons of freight were locked through the canal. This was a seasonal decline of 1,003,587 below November shipments of 5,352,680.

A total of 5,562 vessels moved through the locks in 809 lockages during December, down from 4,944 vessels and 488 lockages during November, the report showed.

December freight movements included a total of 1,640,003 tons moving upriver and 2,709,040 tons going downriver. Largest shipments going upriver consisted of 643,000 tons of petroleum products, while the largest downriver shipments were made up of 2,056,000 tons of grain.

A new record for freight shipments in any one month was established during 1976 with the movement in May of 6,741,009 tons. Of that amount, 2,369,894 tons were shipped upriver and 4,371,115 tons went downriver.

Shipments for the month of June were 6,741,009 tons, of that amount, 2,369,894 tons were shipped upriver and 4,371,115 tons went downriver.

The 1976 freight shipments exceeded the 6 million mark on one other occasion last year — during June when freight movements totaled 6,351,947 tons. In all other months except January (3,346,231 tons) and December (4,349,093 tons), freight shipments were 5 million to 6 million tons.

Sunset bill by Sen. Percy to reform regulatory agencies

Legislation to ensure major reform of federal regulatory agencies by imposing a strict timetable and discipline upon Congress and the President was introduced Thursday in the United States Senate.

The Regulatory Reform Act of 1977 is jointly sponsored by Senators Charles H. Percy (R-Ill.), Abraham Ribicoff (D-Conn.) and Senate Majority Leader Robert C. Byrd (D-W.Va.).

Ribicoff and Percy are the chairman and ranking Republican of the Government Operations Committee, to which the bill was referred.

The three senators plan to work closely with the Carter administration as the measure proceeds in committee and on the Senate floor.

In a joint statement, Senator Byrd, Ribicoff and Percy said: "The regulatory agencies are not as effective as they ought to be in dealing with important health, housing, transportation, energy and other needs of the American people."

"We see too much inertia, delay, waste, and harassment. Meanwhile, consumers are tax with higher prices, and businessmen with increased costs."

"The bill would accomplish worthwhile regulatory goals, regulation must be made more effective, and agencies more responsive. Regulation needs to be more in touch with the times."

"If regulatory agencies are to deliver on their promises, we must break new life into them. We must scrutinize anew their purposes, structures, and activities to decide whether they are still performing useful functions. If not, they should either be revamped or scrapped."

The legislation sets forth an agenda and discipline by which, over a period of eight years, the President would submit to Congress every two years comprehensive plans for reforming regulations in four major areas of the economy, namely:

96th Congress (1979-80) — energy, the environment, housing, occupational health and safety.

97th Congress (1981-82) — transportation and communication.

98th Congress (1983-84) — banking and finance, international trade and government procurement.

99th Congress (1985-86) — food, consumer health and safety, economic trade practices and labor-management relations.

100th Congress (1987-88) — cause of death. A heart attack is suspected.

Mr. Metcalf was employed at Granite City Cemetery, Alton. He and Carrie Jo Cochran Metcalf were married in Granite City in 1962.

and uses idle energy!

In addition to its advantages to the user, electric heat is a wise way to use idle energy. Electricity for heating comes from energy that otherwise would not be used. It's "off-peak" energy, generated when demand is relatively low.

The more work we find for off-peak energy, the better for all of us. Because efficient management of energy helps hold the line on operating costs.

When you're considering which type of heat to use, first plan for proper insulation. Then consider electric heat. It's a wise way to put idle energy to work.

Ask your Energy Use Advisor for facts on the many types of electric heat.

Elizabeth Savage returns to the ranch country of western Montana, the setting of her previous novels "Summer of Pride" and "Happy Ending," in her latest book, "The Girls from the Five Great Valleys." Savage tells the wise, witty, and moving story of five teenage girls coming of age in 1954, in the cowtown-turned-college-town of Missoula.

Paul Henissart's new novel of espionage, "The Winter Spy," is about a plot to assassinate Dr. Robert Winter, the charismatic and celebrated shaper of American foreign policy, adviser to two presidents, world traveler, scholar, and latter-day Metierich.

"Little Angie," a sheer tour de force in eroticism and psychological terror by Emma Cave, is receiving good reviews.

DON HARRON AND FRIEND. Canadian actor and writer Don Harron, left, takes a giant leap from the classics to corn when he goes to Nashville, Tenn., for two weeks every year to portray Charlie Farquharson on "Hee Haw." That's Charlie on the right — Harron transformed "by putting on glasses, a funny hat and not shaving."

Charlie's corn yields laughs

By DON FREEMAN
 Press-Record
 Hollywood Bureau

Originally, going back about 25 years, a Shakespearean actor named Don Harron would transform himself into a lusty rural character he chose to call Charlie Farquharson.

Both have endured — Don Harron as a serious actor, Charlie Farquharson as one of the prime attractions on "Hee Haw" as the newscaster on the farmers' favorite station — KORN, of course.

In his Farquharson guise, Harron churns out books, including his current epic, known as "Charlie Farquharson's KORN Allmynack," which contains — to quote from the subtitle, "Advice for the Future and the Pasture."

Harron was, in fact, playing Shakespeare in Chicago a few years ago when two old friends from Toronto, now at the helm of "Hee Haw," asked him to come to Nashville and re-create Charlie Farquharson.

"I was doing 'Measure for Measure,'" Harron recalls, "which is quite a leap from Nashville."

"But these friends of mine said they were planning a country version of 'Laugh-In,' which would be 'Hee Haw,' of course."

Now Harron devotes two weeks of a year to taping his "Hee Haw" appearances and he couldn't be happier.

"No pressure at all in that show. If you make a mistake, they leave it in."

"And the show keeps getting stronger all the time. Maybe it's the shape the country's in. People turn to us for relief."

Wherever Harron goes to promote his "KORN Allmynack," he ventures on TV or radio and he does the news, Charlie Farquharson style.

Back home in Toronto, Harron writes and acts and puts on a Farquharson newscast twice a week on the air.

Essentially, the Farquharson character is a backwoods Canadian.

"He's a backcountry Ontario farmer," Harron says, "a mixture of northern Irish and lowland Scottish, very Canadian."

"But he seems very American to the Americans, who have a long tradition of country humor."

Harron began his career at age 10, touring the banquet circuit giving chalk talks.

Then he moved into acting and his credits include three seasons under Tyrone Guthrie at the Shakespearean repertory company in Stratford, Ont., where he once played opposite Katharine Hepburn.

He was with the Bristol Old Vic in England and later he co-starred with Maggie Smith in London in "A Streetcar Named Desire."

On Broadway, he appeared in seven shows and Walter Kerr, the distinguished drama critic, named him one of three best young actors in North America.

He also starred on Broadway in Paddy Chayefsky's "The Tenth Man."

Harron wrote a musical,

"Anne of Green Gables," based on a Canadian classic. It's in its 12th season at the Charlotte (Prince Edward Island) Festival.

A versatile fellow, indeed. How, one wonders, does he make the transition to Charlie Farquharson?

"By putting on glasses, a funny hat and not shaving," Harron says.

And when he does that, when the transformation is complete, he can write such items as "Charlie Farquharson's History of Canada," which has sold more copies than any book in the history of Canada.

His "Allmynack" is doing pretty well, too — "published for 1 hole consecutive year and writ in plane simple language to be understood by the commonest people."

It is, by all means, a useful kind of almanac with a section devoted to etiquette, as follows:

Q. What is manners?
 A. The noises you don't make when you're eating soup.

Q. What is the proper way to dunk a donut?
 A. No further than the neck.

Q. Do young men still open a car door for a young lady?
 A. Yes. (a) if the car is new or (b) if the girl is.

One more note on good etiquette from Charlie:
 Q. Is it proper to pick up a woman in a bar?
 A. Well, it sure ain't good manners to leave her lay there on the floor.

EARLY APPLICATIONS AT SHUC SUGGESTED
 High school and community college students considering applying for admission to Southern Illinois University at Carbondale for the 1977 fall semester have been encouraged to apply early in order to get the best chances for housing, financial aid and preferred study majors.

Individuals must gain admission to the university before they can be considered for university housing and financial assistance. Early applicants also insure themselves of more options in choosing a study major. One major already has been closed in the university's School of Technical Careers and other programs may be forced to curtail enrollments soon, a spokesman said.

Protestant Welfare aids 1,452 persons

In 1976, Protestant Welfare Association handled some 466 cases, involving 1,452 persons, and 11 of the cases were reported in December, the association's board of directors learned at a meeting at Concordia Lutheran Church.

Kenneth Whittington, board president, was in charge of the meeting and the devotion was offered by the host pastor, the Rev. Arvin Twietmeyer.

Whittington introduced Mrs. Norma Jean Petty, new secretary at the Protestant Welfare Office, 2032 Edison Ave. She is succeeding Mrs. Marie Whittle as secretary.

Mrs. Whittle has worked at the agency for the past 20 years and formally retired Dec. 31.

She has remained at the office to help during the transition period.

Presenting her final report to board members, Mrs. Whittle said the 496 cases processed in 1976, included 172 new, 137 recurrent and 197 incidental cases.

During the previous 12 months, Mrs. Whittle said, 229 relief orders, amounting to $6,551, were issued.

Additionally, the agency provided 183 orders of clothing and shoes from the Protestant Welfare Store Room, with an estimated value of $1,551, and also collected and distributed household items, valued at $153.

In the Mobile Meals program, volunteers from Protestant Welfare-member churches delivered a total of 9,431 meals to elderly and indigent persons, the annual report stated.

Cost of the meals, prepared at St. Elizabeth Hospital, was raised from $1.15 to $1.50 last March and many of those served through the program were assisted in still receiving the meals through donations of individuals, churches and organizations, the secretary said.

During December, 51 cases, involving 150 persons, were handled by the agency. Also, 29 orders were issued for food and other orders for clothing and new shoes.

Mrs. Whittle said 19 needy children were entertained by Theta Theta Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi society, at St. John United Church of Christ as part of the Christmas program.

Christmas baskets were given to 26 families, in addition to grocery orders and canned goods.

Dolls provided by Granite City Trust and Savings Bank were presented to nine small girls, Mrs. Whittle said.

The retiring executive secretary expressed her appreciation to the board members for their cooperation throughout the years, and for a retirement gift.

"I sincerely hope and pray the good work of our organization may continue to grow in the coming years," Mrs. Whittle said.

TO MARRY. Miss Beth Dowdy and Danny E. Smith whose engagement and plans for a March 12 wedding are being announced. ## Cyclamen plant for valentines

By WAYNE B. SIEFFERT Area Adviser in Ornamental Horticulture

Cyclamen plants as a valentine gift, or just a "keep cheerful" gift, have a nice choice of colors and will bloom for several weeks.

Cyclamen plants at valentine's day provide both hearts and flowers.

The heart-shaped leaves are patterned with silver and topped with flowers in shades of red, pink or white. Flowers are long-stemmed and nodding, and are held well above the leaves.

Given good conditions, a cyclamen may flower for several months in the house.

Cyclamen must have cool temperatures. Shifting the plant to a cool window or bedroom each evening where temperatures are in the 50s or 60s will extend their performance for several weeks.

Cyclamen plants also need good light.

During cold weather, direct sun at any time is not harmful.

Later in the spring, plants should be shielded from direct sunlight at midday.

Cyclamen need to be watered frequently but should not be allowed to stand in water. When too dry, they will quickly die. And if not watered promptly, young developing flower buds are killed.

Given proper care, cyclamen may be rebloomed. If you decide to try, give it a rest period by tapering off on watering after flowering has stopped.

When leaves have yellowed, repot the bulb in fresh soil high in organic matter. Allow half of soil to show above the soil after repotting.

During summer, place the plant outdoors in a shady location where light is fairly bright. Keep it well watered.

Allow the plant to remain outdoors until danger of frost. Then move it indoors to a bright location with cool temperature.

Flowering should begin about midwinter.

Guild fetes presidents

Past presidents of the Afternoon Guild were honored Thursday at St. John United Church of Christ.

The group met in the morning hours to sew pads for the Hitz Home in Alhambra. Mrs. Marie Widdows reported 60 pads were ready for delivery.

A noon luncheon was served to 33 members at tables appointed in a Valentine's Day motif. Mrs. Alma Beckman was chairman.

Seated at a special table and honored with gifts were 11 past presidents, including Mrs. Clara Harbig, Mrs. Katherine Roman, Mrs. Helen Pfeiffer, Mrs. Grace Branding, Mrs. Myrtle Landwehrmeier, Mrs. Beckman, Mrs. Emma Helleke, Mrs. Widdows, Mrs. Georgia Engleke, Mrs. Ellen Ehlert and Mrs. Karmyn Edmonds.

The Rev. Paul Surbey, pastor, gave the invocation.

Attorney Leo Konzen was guest speaker and discussed the topic, "Wills." He was introduced by Mrs. Edmonds, program chairman, and answered questions in an informal session following his talk.

Due to the Afternoon Guild having to cancel its January meeting because of inclement weather, several reports were made during the business meeting.

Mrs. Pfeiffer reviewed results of the church bazaar in December, and Mrs. Engleke was appointed to head the bazaar project in 1977.

Mrs. Kathryn Knipping reported many get-well cards were sent in the past two months due to the number of guild members who have been ill.

Mrs. Engleke has been appointed to the stewardship post, representing all groups at St. John, it was announced.

The Fellowship of the Least Coin service was held and The Lord's Prayer was repeated in unison to conclude the all-day meeting.

PTA Founders' Day at Mitchell School

Past presidents of Mitchell Parent-Teacher Association will be honored at a PTA Founders' Day program at 7:30 p.m. Thursday in the school gymnasium.

Mrs. Laurobeth Winkamp, program chairman, reported to the executive board last week that formal invitations have been mailed to the past officers.

Other activities connected with the Founders' Day event were reviewed, including presentation of a film and short talk, dealing with 4-H projects, and a Boy Scout Awards ceremony.

Also planned for Thursday evening is a playlet to be given by Miss Cassie Dudley's second grade class, entitled "You're Not Elected Charlie Brown."

Cub Pack 141 will present the colors.

All parents are being urged to attend, Mrs. Betty Paschodag, PTA president, said. Refreshments will be served by the sixth grade room mothers.

Veterans' skill, trade exchange

Wanted skills and trades may be put to use again through a new program offered by the Office of Veterans Affairs at SIUE.

Terry Campbell, coordinator, said a Veterans' Skill and Trade Exchange (VSTE) program has been established to provide a different approach for veterans in need of employment.

"Permanent employment is hard to come by these days, and this program will enable veterans to earn extra money by utilizing their skills. The veterans are also willing to exchange skills with others."

The program will be aimed at aiding the less fortunate, such as the elderly from surrounding communities, according to Campbell. Some skills represented by the veterans' group are auto mechanics, electrical skills, plumbing and carpentry. Campbell said prices for the services are reasonable.

The Office of Veterans Affairs will categorize the names of applicants and match them with persons in need of a service. Non-veteran students are also being encouraged to use the service.

Persons interested may contact the Veterans Affairs office in person or by phone at 692-2707. Those wishing to participate in the program should submit name, address and phone number, the skill, craft or trade needed or offered, and the type of payment preferred. The office is open from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. weekdays.

Early-rising Kiwanians learn about newspapers

Area Kiwanis Club members prove to be early risers. The breakfast Kiwanis Club meeting at 7 a.m. in Charlie's Restaurant had Kiwanis visitors from two other clubs.

The Edwardsville Kiwanis Club and the Granite City Evening Club each had four members attending.

There was some jostling with the G.C. Evening Club as a comment was made by a Breakfast Club member. "They just wanted to see what it is like to get up early in the morning."

At Wilson, principal of Emerson School, presented a program on how the newspaper is used in classroom techniques at his school, from kindergarten through sixth grades.

Emerson has been using newspapers in its teaching techniques for the last eight years. During the summer months Wilson conducts workshops throughout the United States on the use of newspapers in the classroom. "Using the newspaper technique has made teaching more attractive to many teachers and students because they are working with current up-to-date situations. This teaching technique often motivates the slower child where a text book confuses them," Wilson said.

During the meeting, Wilson held a newspaper exercise and gave the Kiwanians a question for which they were to find the answer in the paper. It was a typical lesson plan, as used in the classrooms, and the members of the club were impressed with the newspaper lesson, according to a Kiwanis spokesman.

Norman Kinder is program chairman for next week.

Sam Ridden, University of Illinois poultry specialist, will present a program Wednesday covering poultry and game bird management for the small flock owner in Madison County. The program starts at 7:30 p.m. at the Farm Bureau Auditorium, 900 Hillsboro, Edwardsville.

There will be color slides and a discussion of various breeds of chickens, bantams, ducks, geese, turkeys, guinea, pheasants and quail. Other topics will include brooding and rearing young birds, housing, management and some regulations that might affect owners of poultry and game birds.

At one time there were many poultry flock owners in Madison County and several years ago the number dropped sharply. However, there are still scattered small poultry flocks around the county, like Ron Mindrup's near Alhambra. He has developed his flock as a part of his 4-H projects, and also raises ducks and geese.

An Illinois swine seminar will be held at Augustine's Restaurant near Belleville tomorrow. Madison County farmers interested in swine production plan to attend.

Speakers include: G.R. Carline, University of Illinois swine specialist, to discuss "Problems in Swine Feeding and Management"; A.J. Muehling, U. of I. agricultural engineer, "Swine Buildings"; R.P. Kesler, U. of I. agricultural economist, to discuss "The Outlook for Pork Production in 1977"; and L.G. Biehl, U. of I. Extension veterinarian, "Swine Diseases and Their Control."

The program will begin with registration at 9:30 a.m. Tuesday. There is a registration fee of $4 per person, which covers the noon meal and handout materials.

Quilting precedes Honor Circle meet

A morning of quilting preceded the February meeting of Honor Circle at Niedringhaus United Methodist Church last week.

Luncheon was served at noon, with Mrs. Lucy Weaver, circle chairman, providing the dessert course.

The devotional topic was given by Mrs. Eva Evans and Mrs. Evans read an article by Dr. Norman Vincent Peale and the closing meditations were excerpts from "God's Beautiful World" by John Wesley.

In the business session, conducted by Mrs. Weaver, various committee reports were presented. It was announced that 21 stick packs were made during January.

Mrs. Weaver reminded members the next general meeting of the United Methodist Women will take place at the church March 8.

Also attending were Mesdames Beulah Fox, Edith Etherton, Clara Wadlow, Augusta Fender and Winifred Reimers.

Venice council meets tonight on grant fund

A special meeting of the Venice City Council will be held at 6:30 p.m. today to complete forms and agreements under which the city is to receive $300,000 in funds under the Public Works Act.

Mayor William "Mike" Ebersold said the city received Friday its first official notice that the grant had been approved. The Venice application for Public Works funds was among requests filed by Quad-City area taxing agencies in an effort to finance a number of public works projects.

Venice was the only municipality in the area to win approval of its request.

Ebersold said the money is to be used to finance reconstruction of the east approach of McKinley bridge, including a new bridge deck.

The mayor said tonight's meeting will be necessary to complete all papers and documents required to be filed by the city. The city has until Tuesday to mail the papers.

Vadaabene subsidence legislation

Democratic Senators Sam Vadaabene of Edwardsville and James Donnewald of Breese jointly introduced two bills last week aimed at protecting property owners from the ravages of coal mine subsidence, a "serious and costly environmental problem involving cave-ins or settling of ground above shaft-mined areas," they said.

The two senators related that mine subsidence places a hardship on many property owners in heavily mined areas of Southern Illinois, including parts of Madison County and other regions in the districts represented by the neighboring senators.

One bill would require the Illinois Department of Mines and Minerals to study existing underground mine maps and examine present mine regulations so that the state can produce new rules to prevent subsidence in the future.

The other bill in the Vadaabene-Donnewald package would establish the first mine subsidence insurance plan in Illinois history.

The bill is designed to give property owners protection against the property-damaging potentials of subsidence. It requires insurance companies to include subsidence coverage in fire and extended-coverage policies and provides up to $50,000 insurance, along with a two per cent deductible policy. Funds would be pooled into a state program and administered by an association of insurance firms, supervised by the State Insurance Department.

Drug, alcohol abuse seminar

Drug and alcohol abuse seminar will be held at the YMCA at 7 p.m. Thursday, Feb. 7, at the Madison County Council on Alcoholism and Drug Dependency and Coordinated Youth Services, a United Way agency.

It will be the first in a series of five seminars the AFL-CIO Community Services Committee will present to the public.

Topics to be discussed during this two-hour program include heroin, barbiturates and alcohol.

A spokesman for the seminar commented, "There are ways where love, understanding, compassion and knowledge can beat the statistics that alcoholics and drug abusers are losers."

Student aid applications

Applications for financial aid for the 1977-78 year are now available at SIUE.

John Jettent, director, said entering freshmen or transfer students may obtain the necessary applications by contacting the Office of Student Work and Financial Assistance located in the basement of the John S. Rendleman Building.

Basic grant program applications have been mailed to all undergraduates currently attending classes at the university. Illinois state scholarship monetary award program applications were mailed to all current recipients enrolled at SIUE.

Students are being urged to apply early to be considered for supplemental educational opportunity grants, national direct student loans, or the college work-study program.

Additional information on financial assistance programs at SIUE or assistance in completing forms may be obtained by contacting high school counselors, community college counselors or an advisor in the office of student work at SIUE.

Plan commission to hear Zoning issues Thursday

Three requests for commercial rezonings are to be considered by the Granite City Plan Commission during its meeting at 1:15 p.m. Thursday at the city offices, 2301 Adams St.

Frank E. O'Donnell Enterprises, Inc., is requesting a C-1 commercial classification for an Arthur Treacher's Fish and Chips Restaurant at 3318 Nameoki Road. The property presently is zoned R-2 single family residential.

The board also is to consider a request by John T. Thompson for C-1 zoning at 1677 Maple Street for the operation of a small business to sharpen hand tools and repair small motors. The property now is R-4 residential.

Both requests were to have been considered at previous meetings of the commission which had to be cancelled due to lack of a quorum.

The commission also is to consider a new request by Thomas Campbell for a C-1 classification instead of the present R-3 residential at 713 Twenty-sixth Street for a telephone answering service.

A request for a variance from zoning regulations is to be considered by the Granite City Board of Appeals during its regular meeting at 1:15 p.m. Wednesday at the same location.

R. L. Purkey, 3319 Wabash Ave., is requesting permission to convert a carport into a garage and extend it three feet from the side property line at his home.

Both the Plan Commission and Board of Appeals make recommendations to the Granite City Council which issues the permits, variances and zoning changes.

Lloyd McBride seen here as effective, responsible leader

Although the election of new United Steelworkers of America officers tomorrow is in the distant purview of members of that union, it has captured the interest of thousands of families here because of its importance and because of Lloyd McBride's 1946-65 service as representative of much of the Granite City Steel work force.

Since 1965, McBride has been based in St. Louis as director of District 34, composed of Missouri, Kansas, Nebraska, Iowa and two-thirds of Illinois. His opponent for the USWA presidency, Edward Sadlowski, heads District 31 in the Chicago-Gary area.

Retiring President I. W. Abel has been backing McBride since the three-way race to succeed Abel was narrowed to two.

For months, campaign allegations have been numerous, with McBride called the candidate of the "official family" even though he does not currently hold international office, and he in turn citing "outside influence" in the Sadlowski camp. That certain Easterners hope to mobilize the largest industrial campaign to react on broad political and economic issues as well as internal union matters is believable, judging by the vast "media" exposure advantages accorded Sadlowski. Some workers would welcome such connections for their union, while others see it as radicalization.

We view it as extreme and self-defeating to contend that steelmakers' resources are limitless. Sadlowski opposes steel price hikes while simultaneously urging full-pay retirement for employees and eventually their spouses. In our opinion, the best assurance of continuing, well-paid and plentiful employment is for one's employer to remain solvent and capable of meeting monetary obligations, including the cost of the technological advances associated with viable rather than dying industries.

The Sadlowski ticket appears to lean heavily toward Utopian promises, impossible to deliver if steel firms are to be crippled by him and others who would worsen the firms' ability to operate profitably and competitively.

The decision on new officers rests with United Steelworkers members, and it would seem likely that the majority of them will recognize McBride as an experienced, effective and responsible leader.

Blames 'official family' of union

To the Editor:

I would like to express my opinion on the election in the Steelworkers union on Feb. 8.

Lloyd McBride is a member of the so-called "official family." This "family" has run the lives of steelworkers since 1965 under I. W. Abel.

They have given us such "wooden" things as ENA (experimental negotiating agreement) which we didn't ask for or vote on.

They have given us the "condemned decree," which was forced on us by the "official family" and by the government and steel corporations without due process of law, which we were entitled to. And, other things too numerous to mention.

I don't know how other steelworkers feel but I am tired of the same old story. Ed Sadlowski has been calling everything from a radical to a Communist.

Before he decided to run for international president of the United Steelworkers, Ed had to overcome the official family's unfair tactics.

He was running for director of District 31 in Chicago and was defeated by the "official family." Only after he had lost the massive vote fraud was he elected director under a Communist.

Yes, Lloyd McBride, you have given us plenty of money, but you have not given us the right to elect our own officers. You have committed yourself to say that we are the election of international officers at the constitutional convention in St. Louis.

He has that rare combination of good judgment, the ability to make wise decisions, and the courage to take the right course of action regardless of whether it is unpopular.

He is not a "flash in the pan." He is not a person who tries to be "all things to all people." He is a dedicated, knowledgeable, brilliant man who knows what he is doing for the betterment of this union and its members.

We can have no better man than Lloyd McBride for our next president of the United Steelworkers of America. I urge all steelworkers to remember this when we vote.

stead of by the membership.

McBride, you are trying to take away our say in who runs our union. Quit juggling what is best for us, and let us decide.

Remember, that the union officers are supposed to fight for us, not to make sure that we should be thankful for.

Sadlowski wants to give us back the power these officers have taken from us. He wants to give us the right to vote on our contract like other unions.

Ed wants to give us what we want, not what is "best" for us. This country was founded by "radicals" who wanted the better things in life.

Sadlowski also wants the better things in life and will fight for them just as our forefathers did. McBride won't because of his "tuxedo unionism" with the steel corporations.

In closing, I would like to say that Ed Sadlowski still knows what it is like to buy a pound of meat or a loaf of bread and feel it in his wallet.

I urge all steelworkers to think about what I have said here and vote for Ed and the slate which he heads. It's our last chance to "fight back."

Phony promises vs. solving of problems

To the Editor:

I have examined the wild promises of Ed Sadlowski—the man who is trying to take over the Steelworkers union.

I have been an active member of the Steelworkers union and have held several local union offices, including the office of president.

My duties include processing and arguing grievances, arbitration, contract negotiations and local union administration. Therefore, I think I know a little about what a union can do and what it can't do.

Every steelworker should ask himself how Ed Sadlowski is going to force the thousands of employers to give 1.4 million steelworkers the Utopia he promises.

I am confident the members will examine his promises very carefully and conclude they sound good but are nothing but empty, phony promises that can't be delivered.

Lloyd McBride is telling Steelworkers the truth, rather than simple, one-line promises that sound good but don't solve complex problems.

Wife of steelworker says schedule is hectic

To the Editor:

I am married to a steelworker and I've been involved in the presidential election. I didn't accept Sadlowski in the beginning just because my husband was for him. I wanted to hear the issues on both sides and make my own decision.

I've been able to hear McBride and Sadlowski speak. I've read the articles and then asked steelworkers the facts to find the truth.

I've listened and talked to both McBride and Sadlowski supporters. If I were a steelworker and could vote, I'm sure now it would be for Sadlowski.

I've heard for five years about unsafe conditions. Sadlowski wants to improve them.

He also wants the union to have the right to stop work because of unsafe conditions, not a company.

He wants to secure job protection so people can plan their lives knowing they have an income.

Sadlowski wants a four-day work week with full pay so steelworkers can get out of some of the pressures and hectic pace our society lives in now.

Sadlowski is very much for steelworkers being able to retire at 50 years with full benefits, full insurance coverage. And when the steelworker dies, the survivor would be guaranteed the same benefits and coverage till death.

I also feel more hopeful that Sadlowski will care and try to stop some of this mixed scheduling. One day on afternoons, two days on midnights, one on days and the last one in the same week, another midnight, like they do at National Steel.

This way of life is not only hard on the steelworker but the family as a whole.

Sadlowski was a steelworker for many years and is still close to the hard work, dirt, sweat and "If you don't like it, go file a grievance" attitude.

I think he would try very hard for his fellow steelworkers.

Many Transportation Department decisions being reviewed

Perhaps it was inevitable that Democrat Brock Adams, new head of the U.S. Transportation Department, would want to "review" a host of decisions by his active predecessor, Republican William T. Coleman Jr. These include the approval of Columbia-Waterloo airport site acquisition.

However, there will be many new challenges facing the Carter administration and its transportation secretary, on top of older issues.

One wonders whether it could prove to be a mistake if he were to engage in wholesale "reverting of history" through alteration of what were essentially nonpartisan studies and rulings by Mr. Coleman, one of the most gifted and fair-minded federal administrators in our memory. Many here recall his virtuoso performance in conducting comprehensive hearings on the airport issues.

The relatively conservative viewpoint of the administration could have far-reaching impact on many projects involving major expenditures, and he as much as said during the pre-election campaign that he doubts the wisdom of such undertakings as replacing the deteriorated Alton dam and locks.

But regarding the airport, dam and possibly other matters, the new administration is holding out the proverbial wisdom that sometimes it is possible to be pursestrings so tightly that decisions become "penny wise and pound foolish."

Sadlowski opposes steel price hikes

To the Editor:

Instead of concentrating on the problems U.S. steelworkers have in this country, McBride tries to duck these issues by paying whatever he feels is fair if it weren't for imports.

He then gets more ridiculous by charging that Sadlowski doesn't care about the loss of jobs for American workers, and even claims that Sadlowski is being supported by Japanese steel interests.

Both these claims would be hilarious if they were not so dangerous.

Steel imports are not the main problem facing U.S. steelworkers. Productivity drives job eliminations and job combinations which are instigated by U.S. steel companies cost us many more jobs.

Abel and McBride have not fought these attacks; instead, they yell about imports.

The recent steel price increase hurt our ability to compete with foreign steel in addition to raising our cost of living. Yet, McBride did not oppose these price hikes. Ed Sadlowski did.

Sadlowski has consistently fought for job protection for steelworkers. He has no connection with Japanese steel interests.

McBride is not an ignorant man. He knows the truth about imports. However, he has chosen to use smear tactics.

He has played upon the fears of steelworkers instead of presenting a program based upon our needs. Any man so willing to stoop to this level does not deserve to be president of our union.

River Festival summer concert series being restructured

Quad-Cityans wish President E. A. Karandjoff Sr. and other Mississippi River Festival planners good luck in their needed restructuring of the MRP format.

It is impossible to move in advance precisely what blend of popular and cultural presentations will offer the best chance of educational-entertainment-artistic-financial success for the series of summertime concerts on the campus of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. Unpredictable weather, for example, can make the difference between "black ink" and "red ink" for a particular performance.

But if the River Festival officers, board and administration, including extensive university staff participants, proceed with a positive, innovative attitude, there is widespread confidence that the right combination of elements can be assembled for the 1977 series and many future concert seasons.

French surrender to expediency

Near East Report

The hasty French release last month of PLO terrorist Abu Daoud serves as a bitter reminder why France is known as a nation that has "no principles" — only interests. In this case, even France's interests in releasing a criminal are debatable.

Obviously anxious to avoid a political squabble with the Palestinian Liberation Organization and its Arab backers, President Giscard d'Estaing's government demonstrated that it cowardly will flout its treaty obligations with West Germany and Israel and its respect for international law.

France conveniently forgot that only months earlier it had signed the 1976 Anti-Terrorism Treaty, the purpose of which was to halt spreading international terrorism by arresting and punishing convicted terrorists.

President Carter was "deeply concerned and very much surprised" by the French action.

The State Department conveyed its official "dismay" to France. Israel recalled its ambassador in Paris.

Congressional protest came swiftly and international public opinion condemned France.

Only the Soviet Union and the Arab states held the French move — showing with whom France apparently likes to associate these days.

France acted as it did despite its full knowledge that Abu Daoud's criminal record.

Incredibly, Daoud, whose real name is Mohammed Daoud Odeh, had been welcomed at the French Foreign Ministry the day before his arrest.

He came to France with the knowledge of the French government as part of a PLO delegation attending the funeral of a slain PLO operative in Paris.

In a glance at Daoud's background clearly demonstrates why he has been among the most-wanted international terrorists for several years.

He has boasted of his involvement in numerous terrorist actions against Israel. Arrested in Jordan in 1973 on charges of attempting to overthrow King Hussein, the government, Daoud was convicted and sentenced to death.

Later, the king commuted the death sentence and released him. But during the trial, the PLO terrorist confessed his involvement in that plot and in other terrorist activities beginning in 1968, when he first met fellow PLO terrorist Ali Hassan Salameh.

Together with Salameh and others, Daoud masterminded the 1972 Munich massacre of 11 Israeli athletes.

He acknowledged that there is no difference between Black September and Fatah, the Arab-backed military arm of the PLO.

"There is no such thing called Black September," Daoud said. "The Jordanian military prosecutor on Feb. 15, 1973, 'Fatah' announces its operations and says that so that Fatah would not appear as the direct executor of the operations."

France's release of Daoud was followed the next day by

GC steelworkers best paid in U.S.

To the Editor:

I recently read of all the promises put out by Ed Sadlowski. Sadlowski says he will do away with the experimental negotiating agreement. He says he will have an individual referendum on contracts.

He says he will make the jobs safer; he says he is no "pinko"; he is saying a lot of things.

But the truth is that he knows he cannot follow through on any of it. It's outright baloney.

Sadlowski cannot get rid of the experimental negotiating agreement (ENA). This is a function of the delegates to the basic steel conference, which is made up of all of the local union presidents in basic steel.

Sadlowski cannot get rid of individual ratification of all contracts.

This, again, can only come about through the votes of delegates to the constitutional convention and then to the area conferences.

He talks safety, but the truth is that, since he was elected a director in 1974, 27 steelworkers have died in the highest number in his district, while he has been doing little about it except political talk.

Sadlowski has been described by the "Daily Worker" and by the Socialist candidate for President of the United States as "our kind of guy."

He may be no "pinko" but he has yet to repudiate their help and support. What does he owe them for this? And this is not Red-baiting.

Yes, he's saying a lot of things which may sound alright but he knows for a fact that he can't follow through on his campaign promises.

Lloyd McBride, from 1946 till

Assails union grievance procedures

To the Editor:

Early in the campaign for the top offices of the United Steelworkers of America, I decided that I would not pick one candidate or the other until I was given both an equal chance of the union vote.

I must admit that the ideas that Ed Sadlowski was putting forth seemed like local and idealistic. But if the man were sincere, I was interested.

Having only five years as a steelworker, I decided to check with some of the older members in my union about Lloyd McBride. I found he had been a local union president for 19 years.

I finally had an opportunity to hear the man speak for himself at a rally held for him. He had almost convinced me he was sincere when, in his closing remarks, he encouraged his supporters to lie to get him elected.

I decided then that McBride could never earn my vote.

He is a scheduled speaker at a director to attain speaking engagements at union functions and then made campaign speeches, and no opportunity for the opposition was provided. All this at the expense of the dues dollars of the membership.

A St. Louis-based Steelworker plant needed McBride's help recently. His office informed them that he was not in his district, out West, negotiating a "sweetheart" contract.

Desperate for help, the Steelworkers called Buddy Doss, the man who will take over McBride's job after the election. He was not in his office, either.

Finally located in McBride's campaign headquarters. If we cannot depend upon these promises, what can we expect from them in the future?

On the basis of McBride's inability and indifference, I can see no other choice for United Steelworkers of America president than Ed Sadlowski.

Women's rights amendment is still in doubt

The Equal Rights Amendment to the U.S. Constitution must be ratified by three more states in the next two years, or it will be a dead issue. Illinois is one of the "battleground" states.

Despite the approval of every President since Dwight Eisenhower, as well as organized labor and both political parties — it passed Congress by a large margin five years ago — ratification of the amendment is making slow and doubtful progress throughout the country.

The ERA states, "Equality of rights under the law shall not be denied or abridged by the United States or by any state on account of sex." Why is there so much opposition?

Emily and Per Ola Daulaire have taken a look at the amendment and explain what it can and cannot promise. They answer some of the key questions, like: Will women be drafted in military combat? Will women be in a shared bathroom and locker facilities with men, and lose all their privileges and prerogatives?

The ERA provides that women and men will be paid the same amount for the identical work. Currently, only about 10 percent of men are paid 20 percent more.

The amendment recognizes that the wife's contribution to a family's support is substantial — even though it isn't a financial one.

"This means that, in the event of divorce, part of the household assets would go unconcerned to the wife," the Daulaires note.

"Ald, in the event of widowhood, the inheritance tax burden would be lightened."

It also would affect alimony and child-custody in divorce cases. Alimony would be allotted according to need, and children would be awarded to the parent best able to provide for their emotional and material needs.

In the event of a military draft, women would be conscripted. Should there be a war, they might well see combat.

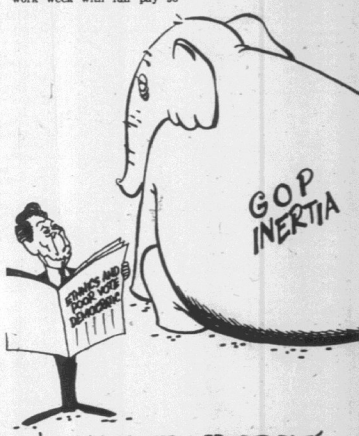

The ERA will not affect wills and testaments.

"The passage of this amendment," said one senator during the debate, "will neither make a man a gentleman, nor will require him to stop being one."

The widely-publicized fear that bathrooms and locker rooms would be used in wilderness, they say. Privacy is guaranteed. Nor would rape laws be affected.

The Supreme Court says specifically that "such laws are designed to protect women in a way that they are uniformly treated from men."

Finally, say the Daulaires, passage of the amendment wouldn't be a change in the 14th Amendment meant full equality for blacks more than 110 years ago.

Madison School Board learns grant rejected

The Madison School Board was informed by letter Thursday night that an application for a federal assistance grant of $424,830 for a proposed vocational education addition to the Madison high school has been rejected. The grant was requested under the Public Works Capital Development and Investment Act of 1976. The School Board wishes to add the vocational building at the high school when monies become available according to Harold Fisk, president. It was reported that designs and plans for the new middle school are proceeding and that the latest word from the Capital Development Board in Springfield is that bids may be called in May. Several requests for use of various school buildings were reviewed by the board and approved pending compliance with board policy which involves insurance qualifications and payment of standard fees charged to cover additional cost. The board approved the recommendation of the State Board of Education to lower temperatures during the fuel shortage for energy conservation. The school building will be cut back to 68 degrees and after school to 65 degrees, and to 60 degrees on weekends. The board approved a request by Bernard Long, principal at Dunbar school, to hold a Space Science Education program on Monday, Feb. 14, at 1 p.m. in the gymnasium, presented by John Hartfield of NASA Headquarters, and for an Afro-American History program on Thursday, Feb. 17, at 1:15 p.m. in the gymnasium. It was announced that Thursday, April 7, will be the last day absentee ballots may be obtained in person for the Saturday, April 9, school election.

Hoener will speak on psychic investigation, his avocation, and will conduct extrasensory perception (ESP) experiments with members of the audience. Hoener has made numerous predictions which have come true and received publicity for his correct predictions on the exact date of the first moon landing, the Spiro Agnew resignation six months before it happened, the Nixon resignation two years in advance, and the streaking craze. He will offer some of his latest predictions during the meeting here.

Dr. Stanley F. Maer new Tri-City Shrine president

Dr. Stanley F. Maer, Granite City optometrist, was installed as president of the Tri-City Shrine Club during an installation dinner-dance at the Sunset Hills Country Club. A member of Triple Lodge 835 for 27 years, Dr. Maer has been active in civic and professional affairs. He is a past president of the Illinois Optometric Association and served as chairman of the Illinois State Board of Optometric Examiners. He has served as Uniwah District chairman of the local Boy Scout Council, president of the Twilight Optometrist Club, the Madison PTA, and as a member of the advisory committee for the Granite City Retarded Children's Association and Specialized Services. Master of ceremonies for the installation dinner was Bob Hardy. Ralph Green was the installing officer and C. A. "Jack" Dempsey served as installing marshal. Dr. Maer told the group, "Care, compassion and concern will be our theme for the year. One must only go to our Crippled Children's Hospital in St. Louis, or to our Burns Center in Cincinnati to appreciate how important our efforts really are. To these great institutions we must rededicate ourselves, for this is what we Shriners are all about."

Raymond Smith making 'remarkable recovery'

"Remarkable progress" is being made in the recovery of Raymond L. Smith Jr., 20, who was critically injured in an accident Dec. 13, a family spokesman said this week. During the time of his rehabilitation, weekly prayer and meditation services are planned in his behalf at the Community Heights Assembly of God Church, Faith and Buxton avenues, the Rev. Jeffrey R. Smith, pastor, said today. The services will take place at 6:30 p.m. each Tuesday in the church sanctuary. All are welcome to attend, the minister said. Smith was extensively injured in a fall from a coke oven bench, a distance between 12 and 15 feet to the ground, at Granite City Steel's coke oven plant. He was found lying across the railroad tracks beneath the "bench". The injured man suffered a fracture to the neck and two breaks in the spinal column which left him paralyzed. He underwent emergency surgery for internal bleeding, further complicated by pneumonia, the Rev. Smith said. Smith, who was employed at Granite City Steel as a laborer, was expected to be removed from traction late last week and will be fitted with neck and back braces, the family said. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond L. Smith Sr., 2801 Wayne Ave., wish to express their appreciation for the prayers and concern of the local community, the pastor said. The father also is employed at Granite City Steel.

Love Circle hears program plans

The current Stewardship Crusade at Niedringhaus United Methodist Church and events planned by the United Methodist Women's group were reviewed at Thursday's meeting of Love Circle. Convening in the church parlors, under the leadership of Mrs. Dolores Allen, circle members sang hymns to open the session. The study topic concerned the continuing purpose of the United Methodist Women (UMW). Mrs. Jan Kohl gave the devotional in keeping with the planned program — Women of the Bible — and Mrs. Clara Huber presented a resume of the life of Elizabeth. Mrs. Allen reminded the group of special church services during the Stewardship Crusade, scheduled yesterday and next Sunday, at which the Rev. Cecil L. Page, crusade director, will speak. The women also heard plans for a baby shower March 8, in conjunction with the UMW general meeting, and a traditional mother-daughter banquet, set for May 16. Mrs. Lois Lester was the hostess and served a dessert course to those mentioned and to Mrs. Gladys Potillo, Mrs. Golda Boyle, Mrs. Dorothy Allen, Mrs. Genevieve Mercer and Mrs. Mary Miller, a guest. Mrs. Huber will entertain the circle March 3 at her home, 3245 Willow Ave.
